Some highways reopen, others close in northern Alberta

Edmonton...

Motorists are advised of the following updates regarding highways in northern Alberta:

- Highway 2 is now open both east and west of Slave Lake.
- Highway 88 remains closed four kilometres north of the junction with Highway 2 north of Slave Lake. A detour is available in the northeast corner of the Town of Slave Lake from 12th Avenue to Tamarack Road.
- Klondyke Ferry remains shut down, which carries Highway 661 traffic across the Athabasca River east of Fort Assiniboine.
- Highway 33 north of Swan Hills is now closed from the junction with Highway 32 to the junction with Highway 2.

The closures were and are associated with heavy rains and flooding in the above areas.

Further advisories will be issued as conditions change. View www.ama.ab.ca/road-reports for updated information on road conditions.
