Subject: Flagging Solution Gas Protocol

The Alberta Energy Regulator published Directive 084 on April 1, 2017 and some of the requirements in Directive 084 limit the eligibility for offset projects in the Peace River area to use the Solution Gas Conservation Protocol. As a result, the Alberta Climate Change office is 'flagging' the Solution Gas Conservation Protocol so that no new offset projects in the Peace River area can be initiated using the protocol. Project developers are still welcome to request permission from the director to bring forward a project using the Solution Gas Conservation protocol for projects not in the Peace River as defined in Directive 084.
